From London Electrical Workers.

There appears to be every likelihood of something quite sufficiently stirring taking place in the ranks of the organized electrical workers of London very shortly unless the employers speedily climb down from the impossible position in which they have endeavored to entrench themselves. The increasing cost of living throughout the war, and afterwards, has impelled the electrical workers to put forward claims for higher money. Always and upon every occasion the employers, whilst not apparently appearing to refuse point blank, offered something less than whatever the union claimed. Furthermore, always and ever there were attached to any modified assent of the employers a most objectionable blacklegging clause, which is proving to be a more insuperable objection than the questions of money even.

To tell the story of this clause means going back some years. In 1914 the electrical workers, who at that date were poorly organized in London, struck for generally better conditions. It was one of those old-fashioned strikes and dragged on for months, when the strikers saw their wives and families suffering visibly before their eyes. Although only five years ago, a strike of that kind in London is almost impossible to conceive nowadays, so solidly are the general forces of labor massed together for self-support.

Still, things were different in 1914. The trouble was made worse then by the fact that there was a very large number of blacklegs. These blacklegs in the end organized themselves into an association calling itself the National Society of Supervising Electricians, a body that the trade union electricians always declared was financed and helped by the employers as a strike breaking source.

An official of the London section of the Electrical Trades Union, speaking of these days, said: "The Supervising Electricians worked as a mobile body, and used to go from job to job collecting as many 'blacklegs' as possible to help employers out of their trouble. The result was that the latter beat us, and although we secured some increase in wages, some of us were out of work for eight months."

From 1914 onwards there has been a good deal of feeling, turning mainly on the question of "blackleg labor." Circumstances have apparently compelled some of the members of the Supervising Engineers to seek admission to the ranks of the Electrical Trades Union, and the extent of the resentment felt by the latter is shown by the fact that in some cases the entrance fee for a man with a "black" record has been put as high as $250.00.

At the present time the principal matter in dispute is still whether members of the Electrical Trades Union should be bound to work with those of the National Association of Supervising Engineers, though there is also a question of wages.

"The minimum wage up to last week was one shilling and seven-pence (equal at the present rate of exchange to 32 cents) an hour, plus 12½ per cent bonus for a 47-hour week," said the above-mentioned official, "but we admit that, as a result of applications, some firms are paying as much as two shillings and sixpence (say about 50 cents) an hour. Our demand, however, is for three shillings (say 60 cents) an hour, with a 44-hour week. Negotiations have been going on with the National Federated Electrical Association for over twelve months, but they have never made us a fair, unconditional offer.

"Recently the question having been reopened by the Whitley Council for the industry, the employers offered to pay two shillings (or 40 cents) an hour as from December 1st. They wrapped it up, however, with a number of objectionable conditions, including working with blacklegs.

We unconditionally reject this, and a ballot of members has, by an overwhelming majority, now given us authority to call a strike. A meeting of the executive committee for the London district (which enjoys almost complete autonomy) will consider the whole question, and we shall take action when we think it advisable."

There are about 16,000 members of the Electrical Trades Union in London, and this number constitutes about 95 per cent of the total workers in the industry in this area. It is alleged further that "working agreements" with members of other similar organizations enable the union, if necessary, to hold up practically the whole of the electrical undertakings and railways of London.

It may be well to add here that the above-mentioned Society of Supervising Electricians eventually registered itself as a trade union, but was refused recognition by the Trade Union Congress, which is the sovereign body in the industrial branch of the British labor movement. Ex members of this society have been given a chance to join the E. T. U., the latest period ending with October 12th, up to which date they could have joined the union at an entrance fee of twenty-five shillings (about $5.00 at the present rates of exchange).

It should also be noted that in the meantime, prior to any strike being declared, members of the union must demand two shillings (40 cents) per hour, plus the general engineering 12½ per cent. Electrician's mates must demand one shilling and sevenpence (32 cents) per hour, plus 12½ per cent of total earnings.

As I have before mentioned, the very strongest exception is being taken by members of the union to working with former blacklegs. It is just upon this point that the employers seem to feel more keenly even than upon money matters. It will be remembered that quite recently the British railway workers went on strike and remained out for eight or nine days, quite successfully showing their power; but a settlement was in the end knocked up which gave them a good deal of their material demands but bound them, upon return to their labors, to work peaceably with those men who had blacklegged during that national strike. This was a very bitter pill to swallow for the railwaymen, and only when it was held to be a temporary step in a never-ceasing national movement did they accept even the advice of their tried and trusted leaders upon this point.

The great recent case of a union being killed by blacklegs was that of the policemen. London policemen up till well into the war period were poorly paid, although they were looked after in other ways so that they were kept physically fit and well. Eventually, when the cost of living began to mount, they formed a union and the Government sustained a severe shock. The idea of a union amongst what were regarded practically as enlisted men could not be thought of, and attempt after attempt was made to break it. Instead of this happening, however, the police union prospered, got about 50,000 members, and secured most surprising advances in wages for its members. Having reached this point, the Government at last made up its mind to successfully torpedo the organization. A bill was promoted in the House of Commons to start a rival policemen's organization under Government auspices. To meet the threatened fight, besides forcing other necessary advantages, the police union declared a strike. The policemen apparently voted for a strike on this occasion to an overwhelming extent, but when the strike actually took place only about 2,000 men out of the 40,000 who had voted for the strike came out.

Underground work on the part of the authorities, a violent anti-union campaign in the press, and perhaps a traditional want of sympathy between the policemen and the other workers in the country combined to smash the union. The 2,000 policemen who struck were given the option of returning to work within a certain period or being dismissed the force. A number returned and the rest were dismissed and have since had to seek other occupations. At the present time the policemen in this country are enjoying substantially increased wages and altogether better positions through the influence of a union which they deserted in the hour of its extremity.

The violent desire on the part of the employers of this country to have supplies of blacklegs is being shown now in every sort of way. Apart from the formation of, as it were, competitive associations of men, there are pension schemes, profit-sharing devices, and fifty other things, all of which are forfeited if the worker strikes. This endeavor on the part of the British employers to systematize and and organize blacklegging is perhaps not a new one, but since the war it has been developing upon a very pronounced scale. The London electricians are up against it now. They will undoubtedly win, and the remaining blacklegs will either have to go out of the business or come into the union upon paying very heavy entrance fees of anything up to five hundred dollars.

It might be added here to the effect that J. Rowan, general secretary of the Electrical Trades Union, is a member of the committee (otherwise composed of J. T. Brownlie, of the engineers; John Hill, of the boilermakers; W. F. Dawtry, of the steam engine makers; J. E. Davison, of the iron founders, and J. W. Paterson, of the carpenters and joiners) which will co-operate with an equal number of representatives of the Engineering and Shipbuilding Employers' Federation to investigate the economic effect of a 44-hour week in those industries where a 47-hour week is now being worked. It was proposed some time ago that the above-mentioned committee should visit the United States and learn the effect of the introduction of a 44-hour week in the shipbuilding yards on your side.

Division of Labor Decisions.

SEABOARD AIR LINE RAILROAD AND FEDERATED SHOP CRAFTS.

Docket OT-855—Washington, D. C., October 22, 1919.

Question—Roadway department employee operating oxy-acetylene welding machine.

Facts—An oxy-acetylene outfit is used by an employee of the roadway department to repair frogs, switches and rails while in track. This man is paid the standard rate for oxy-acetylene welders as provided in General Order No. 27 and its supplements.

Employees' Position—The use of the oxy-acetylene machine should be confined to the mechanics of the respective crafts. Inasmuch as the repair of frogs, switches, rails, etc., has always been handled by blacksmiths by oxy-acetylene process or any other method when taken to shops, this work should be done by blacksmiths in the maintenance of way department. The company has violated Rule 9-C of Southeastern Agreement, which reads: "Mechanics or apprentices in the respective crafts shall do oxy-acetylene, thermit or electric welding, when oxy-acetylene or other processes are used." See Section 3 of Supplement No. 4 to General Order No. 27, reading:

"Oxy-acetylene, thermit and electric welding on work generally recognized as blacksmith's work." Also see Dockets JY-595 and AL-422. The company has placed a man, who is not a blacksmith, on this position and has been instructing him on this work. We request that a blacksmith be given the position at the 70½-cent rate, as this is the rate paid at all points on the system.

Railroad's Position—Rule 9-C of general rules of the Southeastern Agreement applies to shop work and has been so recognized. Further, the work referred to is done in the field, not in the shops, is done on frogs, switches, and rails in track, and it is necessary for the operator to be skilled in track work in order to do this work properly without danger. It is incident to track work, just as other mechanical work, such as a drilling, tapping and other operations performed by roadway forces in connection with outside track work. It is the practice on other lines in the southeastern territory, where similar machines are used for exactly the same kind of work, to have this work done by a man familiar with track work, and he must of necessity be so to insure safety. The rate of pay for this man is fixed and he is paid the wages claimed.

Decision—Employee in question is properly rated at 70½ cents per hour. However, it is proper for employee of the roadway department to operate this machine on the work in question.

BANGOR & AROOSTOCK RAILROAD AND FEDERATED CRAFTS.

Docket 905—Washington, D. C., Nov. 6, 1919.

Question—Stationary engineer or electrical worker.

Facts—T. M. Anderson has charge of boiler room and engine room containing stationary engine which furnishes power to the shop, air compressor, two pumps, one 75-KW generator, two 25-KW generators, and two switchboards. The generators furnish current for lighting the shops and shop village, for running some machines, and doing electric welding. In addition, Anderson has charge of the line shafting and counter shafting in the main shop. He is now paid $113.21 per month under Supplement No. 7.

Employees' Position—Under Section 5, Article I, Supplement No. 4 to General Order No. 27, this man should be classified as electrical worker, first-class, on account of having the supervision of electric generators and switchboards.

Railroad's Position—This man was classified correctly under Supplement No. 7, as the attention which he is required to give to the generators and switchboards is not sufficient to classify him as electrical worker, first-class.

Decision—The employee is performing work enumerated under Section 5 of Article I of Supplement No. 4 to General Order No. 27, and shall be so classified and paid as per Sections 1 or 2 of Article II of Supplement No. 4 to General Order No. 27.

SOUTHERN RAILROAD LINES AND FEDERATED SHOP CRAFTS.

Docket MY-481—Washington, D. C., Nov. 7, 1919.

Question—Are positions as "gang foreman" or "leader" that are paid on an hourly basis and 5 cents per hour in excess of the rate of the craft as per Section 4, Article III of Supplement No. 4 to General Order No. 27, to be bulletined when vacancies occur?

Employees' Position—General Rule R-C of agreement covering railroads of the Southeast reads as follows:

"When vacancies occur or new positions are created in the respective crafts they will be posted and employees given preference thereto, efficiency and seniority to govern."

We contend where gang foremen or lead men perform the work of their craft these positions should be bulletined when vacancies occur, in accordance with above rule.

Railroad's Position—The position of gang foreman, in particular, and in many cases that of leader is supervisory even though in some instances the employees may perform to some extent the manual labor of a craft in addition to the supervisory duties. The basis of compensation, whether at hourly rates or on a salary, does not change the character of the duties, and as employees occupying such positions are in direct control of expenditures for labor and materials, which is of vital importance to the successful conduct of a business institution, the right of selection must be reserved to the officer in charge. General Rule 3-C of the agreement between the railroads of the Southeast and the Federated Shop Crafts, quoted by the employees, pertains to positions directly within the scope of the work designated as that of the respective crafts and does not include supervisory positions. This was the understanding of the committee representing the railroads when the rule was formulated; and if it were not true General Rule 3-D of the agreement mentioned, reading as follows, would be superfluous: "Employees will be given consideration for promotion, proficiency and seniority to govern." It is the policy of the railroad to promote its employees, selecting them wherever located for the positions to be filled at any point on the line, and if the positions become subject by bulletin to the individual choice of employees under the provisions of General Rule 3-C it would prove seriously detrimental to the efficiency of operation. For that reason, and in view of the broad scope of the request of the employees, which would include those in charge of air brake departments, tool rooms, and other highly important branches, it was declined.

Decision—This decision was rendered by the Director General as follows:

"Rule 3-C of the General Rules of Agreement between the roads in the Southeast and the Federated Shop Trades, does not refer to positions of a supervisory nature such as gang foreman or leaders. Therefore, vacancies in supervisory positions including gang foremen or leaders are not required to be bulletined."

THE MONTH OF JANUARY AND LABOR.

(By Laurence Todd.)

January, 1920, has witnessed the high tide of the hysteria against the organized labor movement in the United States—and it has witnessed the turn and the rapid fall of that tide.

It began with nationwide raids directed by Attorney General Palmer, dragging into jails hundreds of men whose offense in some instances was their names; it began with the United States Senate and House of Representatives and the metropolitan press in full cry against "labor profiteers" "red radicals in control of labor," and "class dictatorship of the nation's coal and steel." But it did not end so.

It ended with Attorney General Palmer hastily cancelling and denying his agreement to defend a sedition bill before a House committee; with the anti-strike clause in the railroad bill dead and buried; with the whole country aroused to recover the rights of free speech and assemblage; with the coal operators once more on the defensive, and with the Administration in a hole and preparing to dig itself out by continuing public operation of the railroads as demanded by organized labor and the organized farmers.

The whole tide of American sentiment has swept outward, bearing upon it the wreckage of the structure of lies and class hatred with which Judge Gary and the organized anti-labor forces hoped to follow up their December victories by crushing out the American Federation of Labor itself.

As the organized anti-union employers outlined their plan of attack, at the break-up of the President's industrial conference last October, the main lines of attack were to be.

1. Slow starvation of the steel strikers, with incidental Cossack violence if labor organizers attempted to hold meetings.

2. Defeat of the bituminous coal miners' strike by press hysteria and the use of Federal force under pretense of law.

3. Suppression of the railroad men by returning the roads to private operation, with an anti-strike law.

4. General terrorization of all labor by means of a "sedition" law to be hastily enacted, and by means of wholesale raids.

5. Permanent compulsory universal military training, as a means of breaking the spirit of such well-organized sections of the labor movement as the buildings trades, the printing trades, and the transportation men outside the steam railroad service.

How well they succeeded, by the lavish use of printers' ink and intrigue and fear and prejudice, during November and December, is well recognized. The steel strikers' cause was damned in the "respectable" press, and the Attorney General of the United States gave a dinner in honor of Gov. Sproul, commander of the Cossacks of Pennsylvania. The magnificent struggle of the bituminous coal miners, against the power of a reactionary Federal court judge and the threats of Federal troops in the coal fields, ended in a compromise, whereby the coal miners returned to work with only 14 per cent increase in pay, but with the promise of an award on all their demands by a special tribunal to be named by the President. On January 7th the United Mine Workers' convention, in special convention at Columbus, voted its acceptance of the compromise, although protesting against the injustice of the use of injunctions by Judge Anderson to break their strike. Anti-strike legislation for the railroads had passed the Senate and was in conference of the two branches of Congress when New Year's Day arrived. Trade unionists had been arrested without warrants and had been held in jail days and even weeks, without the shadow of excuse, except the suspicion of officious detectives that they were "reds." Eight sedition bills had been offered in the House, and the Sterling sedition bill was about to be passed by the Senate. Universal compulsory military training and its leading exponent, Gen. Wood, were hailed as the rock of national salvation.

But after the New Year arrived there came a change in the situation.

The steel strikers, realizing that they could not win by staying out, went back into the mills, with the announced purpose of organizing the plants from inside. They are not beaten; they have simply adopted new tactics—a kind that gives new anxiety to the Steel Corporation. They will form a great underground organization that henceforth will cause Judge Gary more trouble than ever the daylight unions did.

On the coal situation a vast amount of new light has been shed by figures published by former Secretary of the Treasury McAdoo, showing that the soft coal operators have made enormous profits—as high as 2,000 per cent in some cases—and that they can easily pay 30 to 40 per cent higher wages without raising the price of coal. The United Mine Workers themselves presented their case to the special Coal Commission on Jan. 27, in a way that indicated that the final award will inevitably give them most of the betterments which they sought when they went on strike.

Of the profits of the mine operators, the Mine Workers said, in their argument: "While the mine workers, during our great national emergency, were working every day possible to maintain production, were receiving wages far below their pre-war purchasing power, which was below a level of actual subsistence, and at the same time were sending members of their families to France and straining their inadequate resources to the utmost in the purchase of Liberty Bonds in order to aid our common cause, the coal mining companies were helping to win the war by taking extortionate profits from the Government, from our war industries and from domestic consumers, and were telling our harrassed people, when they protested against the prices of coal, that the high prices were due to the exaction of high wages by the miners. Their action has cast a stigma upon the patriotic honor of our people, and we demand that this Commission ascertain and make public the real facts so that the mine workers may be absolved from this most loathsome misrepresentation."

They show that in the central Pennsylvania field, for example, the share of a consumer's dollar paid for soft coal that went to labor was 66 cents in 1916, but was only 55 cents in 1918—a decrease of 16.7 per cent; the operator got only 6 cents of the consumer's dollar in 1916, while in 1918 he got 25 cents—an increase in his share of 316.7 per cent!

So, while the coal strike was in a sense broken by a Federal judge and Attorney General Palmer, they have still to reckon with the facts and the necessity of justice to the organized miners—with a foe stronger today than in December, and with public opinion withdrawn from support of the operators to support of the miners.

Meanwhile, the Senate and House conferees have been in deadlock on the railroad bill. As day by day the number of telegrams, letters, resolutions and "petitions in boots" against the return of the railroads to private hands has increased, the fate of the roads has become more doubtful. Although the White House had issued its proclamation that the roads would be returned on March 1, January saw a continual and increasing fight against this, culminating in a visit to the White House of a delegation representing the American Federation of Labor, its railway employees, department, the train service brotherhoods, and the organized farmers and the State Federations of Labor of Nebraska, Iowa, Minnesota and Wisconsin.

There is no longer any discussion of anti-strike laws, because the presidential campaign is at hand, and 2,000,000 railroad workers have votes. Mr. Bryan, at the Jackson Day dinner here on the night of January 8, gave proof of that, when he urged public ownership and democratic control of railroads as the policy of a re-organized party. From that moment the reactionary railroad program became a lost cause.

As for the sedition bills, they were killed by a rally of all the labor spokesmen in the national capital, led by President Gompers and Jackson H. Ralston, attorney for the A. F. of L., who notified the House committee that the passage of any such measures would in effect be a declaration of war upon the masses of the wage workers of the country by the czaristic politicians who might attempt it. An army of spies and informers, and another army of jailers, Mr. Gompers told the Committee on Rules, would have to be maintained, at great cost to the public, to try to enforce this denial of the constitutional rights of free speech, free press, free assemblage and organization. Such a law would brand Congress as the foremost manufacturer of revolution in the United States. Attorney General Palmer avoided the opportunity to speak for the bills.

Universal compulsory military training is the latest of the lines of attack upon labor to be broken down. Republican Floor Leader Mondell told the House yesterday that the country is now facing a financial crisis—a deficit of $3,000,000,000 for the coming year. To add the further burden of $1,000,000,000 a year for this militarist scheme, he said, was worse than folly—it would forever destroy the politicians and the party that adopted it.

One or two more attacks upon the labor movement were planned, but have not materialized as yet. Foremost of these was the bill prohibiting all Government employees from being affiliated with an "outside" organization—the A. F. of L. That has not passed even the torrid Senate chamber; it will be buried decently and in order. Since it was first announced, the rural mail carriers have been added to the long list of organizations of Federal employees holding charters from the Federation. Here again the men who wield enormous political power are making their choice in favor of the organized labor movement, quite regardless of the elocation of Senator Myers of Montana or Congressman Blanton of Texas, or Congressman Davey of Ohio.

All these items have been items of defensive fighting. The aggressive work of the month has been marked chiefly by the plans for wholesale co-operative enterprises to be started and operated by national and international unions and by organized farmers. A special congress to plan co-operative undertakings will meet in Chicago on February 12, with Warren S. Stone of the Locomotive Engineers as one of its chief leaders, and with President Gustafson of the Nebraska Farmers' Union as another. Stone has announced that before 1920 is over there may be established a labor bank, with some $40,000,000 of labor money on deposit, as the backbone of co-operative attack on Big Business in America.

LABOR.

Out of chaos, out of work?

I arose and did my work;

While the ages changed and sped

I was toiling for my bread.

Underneath my sturdy blows

Forests fell and cities arose,

And the hard, reluctant soil

Blossomed richly from my toil.

Palaces and temples grand

Wrought I with my cunning hand.

Rich indeed was my reward—

Stunted soul, and body scared

With the marks of scourge and rod.

I, the tiller of the sod,

From the cradle to the grave

Shambled through the world—a slave?

Crushed and trampled, beaten, cursed;

Serving best, but served the worst;

Starved and cheated, gouged and spoiled,

Still I builded, still I toiled

Undernourished, underpaid

In the world myself had made.

Up from slavery I rise,

Dreams and wonder in my eyes,

After brutal ages past,

Coming to my own at last.

I was slave—but I am free?

I was blind—but I can see?

I, the builder—I, the maker,

Slave and serf and clod no longer,

Know my strength—and who is stronger?

I am done with ancient frauds,

Ancient lies and ancient gods—

All the sham is overthrown,

I shall take and keep my own,

Unpassioned, unafraid,

Master of the World I've made?

Berton Braley.

RAILROAD LEGISLATION.

(By Charles M. Kelley.)

Unable to secure all of its demands, Wall street has practically decided to substitute the Esch railroad return bill for the Cummins bill, and with some slight modifications attempt to jam it through the House and Senate. If necessary it will drop the anti-strike provision or accept substantial modifications.

While the large financial interests are anxious to take from labor its only effective method of protest, they are more concerned with the financial provisions of pending legislation. They have gambled for large stakes, but, facing a danger of losing everything, they are just about ready to take less than their original demands.

The best information obtainable is that the conference report will contain a revolving fund of not less than $300,000,000, which has been fitly described as a vanishing fund. That is deemed absolutely essential, for the railroad interests have been smacking their lips in anticipation of some very rich pickings when they again come into possession of the roads.

Of course, the validation of billions of dollars of fictitious stock will also be insisted upon, as will also the guaranteed return, which means that transportation charges must be increased not less than 25 per cent, adding nearly a billion dollars to the nation's freight bill and increasing the cost of living by nearly five billion dollars per annum, or about $225 per year for each American family.

The controversy that has waged in the conference committee has been over the anti-strike provision of the Cummins bill.

The railroad lobby was loath to lose the advantage which it thus hoped to gain over the workers. It sought to render the railroad employees impotent before it started out to exploit the public.

The great unorganized public is not in position to make effective protest, and the railroad managers have no cause for apprehension on this point. When rates are raised and cost of commodities continue upward by leaps and bounds, the people will grumble a bit, perhaps, but that is about all that will happen. But the workers are in position to protect themselves and defend the public, unless they are shackled by oppressive restrictions.

Labor, however, is not content with having defeated the anti-strike iniquity. It insists that the rights of the public shall be taken into consideration in connection with pending railroad legislation, and it will continue to resist every effort to further add to the burden of consumers.

Labor and farm organizations have renewed their demand that the railroads be retained under federal control for a period of at least two years, but the people may be saved from the menace of higher rates and subsidies and treasury raids in the guise of revolving funds.

The Esch bill is just as unsatisfactory and just as injurious to the public welfare as is the Cummins bill, with the single exception of its labor provisions. Labor is not concerned only that it shall be safeguard against harm. It is fighting for the great unorganized public as well as for its own rights.

LABOR AND THE COOPERATIVE MOVEMENT.

(By Dr. Frederic C. Howe.)

The cooperation movement is attracting widespread interest within the ranks of labor and organized farmers. Mr. Warren S. Stone, grand chief of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, recently announced the proposed organization of a labor bank through which upwards of forty millions of dollars would be mobilized in the interest of labor. The Maintenance of Way employees have recently purchased plants in Michigan and Ohio for the manufacture of knit goods, underwear, gloves and other clothing. The goods manufactured are to be sold to members of the various railroad organizations at cost.

A conference has been called to be held in Chicago, February 12-15, made up of representatives of organized labor and progressive farmers, to discuss a program of cooperation and joint action between the farmers, cooperative societies and labor organizations. The movement for the cooperative production and cooperative sale of the necessities of life has received a great impetus within the past few months. It may sweep the country during the next few years.

Along with these big movements, consumers' cooperative stores are being opened as a means of attack on the high cost of living. This movement is particularly strong in Chicago, Seattle, Pittsburgh, and among the miners of Illinois. Wholesale cooperative depots are being organized for the purchase of supplies to be distributed to the local societies. New local organizations are being organized at the rate of fifty a week. Most of these societies are a success. Where they fail it is due to inadequate capital or careless management.

All over Europe the cooperative movement has been developed by labor unions and socialists, as a means of promoting the solidarity of the workers. It has been found that economic power adds materially to the strength of organized labor in its collective bargaining. In case of strikes the cooperative stores have handled the distribution of food and fuel. They have been the commissariat in labor's wars. Labor in Europe has its own banks, its own bakeries, breweries, boot and shoe factories. Labor does its own banking, and before the war the annual turnover of these banks ran into the billions of dollars.

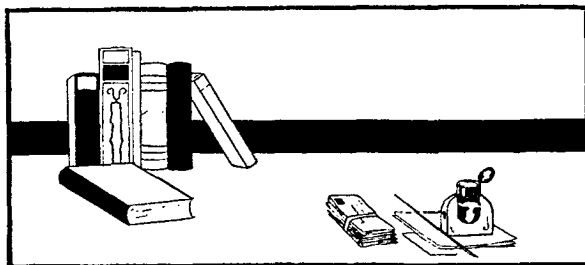

Labor in America has been late in organizing cooperation. Once started, however, it should move with great rapidity. Labor should control its own economie life. The labor unions in this country control over a hundred million dollars of their own funds. In addition the workers receive wages in excess of twenty billions of dollars a year. These trust funds and wages are placed in the capitalistic banks. They are often used against labor. They should be controlled by labor itself in its struggle for self-protection and development.

The last twelve months have taught labor many things. It has exposed the plans of capital to crush unionism. It has exposed the plans of many politicians to aid capital in crushing unionism.

Labor cannot afford to wait until it is wholly helpless. It should begin to organize itself as an economic unit and as a political force as well. Cooperation is the means of economic effort. It is a means for reducing the cost of living. It is a way to beat the profiteers. Far more important, it is a way to develop a sense of solidarity, a community of interest, a realization of the power of labor, once it takes an inventory of its resources and then uses its intelligence to bring these resources under its own control for its own advancement.

Subsequent articles will tell how cooperative stores can be organized; they will provide information to readers interested in this subject, and will report the progress of the cooperative movement not only in this country, but in Europe as well.

IN MEMORIAM

BROTHER MARTIN J. ARNETH.

AROUND THE CIRCUIT.

Local No. 382, Columbia, S. C., has concluded a new agreement with the Columbia Railway Gas & Electric Company. In addition to providing a very substantial increase in wages and eight hour working day, the agreement also contains an arbitration feature for adjusting all grievances that arise under the agreement. The wage scale provided in the agreement for linemen, motor repairmen, lamp trimmers and station mechanics is 80c per hour; time and one-half for overtime; double time for Sundays and holidays.

Light & Power linemen, members of L. U. No. 1009 of Traverse City, Michigan, assisted by Representative Lyons, have received an increase in wages of approximately 12 per cent. The settlement provides that further increases will be granted based upon any advances over the present cost of living.

The Erie Fixture Supply Company, Erie, Pa., is one of our satisfied advertising patrons. This firm enjoys a very good reputation in the electrical world and is rapidly approaching the front ranks of the fixture business. It is gratifying to us to know that this firm finds our Journal a very satisfactory advertising medium and it may be of interest to our readers to learn that the members of the firm are also members of the Brotherhood.

Local No. 508, Savannah, Ga., has signed an agreement with the Mill Haven Repair Plant of the Southland Steamship Company. The minimum wage scale provides for journeymen electrical workers 90c per hour; 44-hour week.

Local No. 116, Ft. Worth, Texas, assisted by Executive Council member Swor, has reached a new wage settlement with their employers providing the following increase over the present $7.00 per day scale, being $8.00 until June 30th, 1920; $8.50 from June 30th until December 31st. Further substantial increases in wages can be looked for in other sections.

LABOR TEMPLE ASSOCIATION SELLS BOOK.

The Labor Temple Association of Schenectady, are acting as selling agents for a new book "Romance Of A Great Factory", which aims to give a faithful and intimate description of interesting things in and about the Schenectady Works of the General Electric Company. The book has 200 pages, ninety-nine illustrations, of which sixty-six occupy a full page, and the book deals with electrical subjects—especially the work in the General Electric Company, which employs nearly twenty-five thousand men.

The author is Charles M. Ripley, who showed the illustrations from the book at the New Orleans convention of the I. B. E. W. September, 1919. He says that there are many curious, spectacular and sentimental sides to the life, achievements, work and play of those employed in the big industrial plant.

The introduction to the book was written by Dr. Charles P. Steinmetz, who states that the writers of today are out of touch with the twentieth century. He claims that it is the ignorance of the average literary man which disables him to see the romance of our age—the greatest in the world's history.

He also states that in the modern factory there is far more romance and poetry than in the history of the past, but that we must be living with it to see and understand it—that is we must be living with the men of our century, and not sheltered in the dust of past ages. Concluding Dr. Steinmetz says that the book "describes the adventures of the thousands of us who have gathered together here in an organization, mightier than any age has been; have contributed to the conquest of Nature, and by our work have helped to make the world a better place in which to live."

This book is sold by the Schenectady Labor Temple Association at the regular price of $2.00. The author donates ten cents to the Treasury of the Mutual Benefit Association of the General Electric Company, which provides health, life and accident insurance to employees at an average expense of seven cents a week. Those who desire to order the book can do so by addressing Mr. J. T. McConville, 511 Avenue A, Schenectady, N. Y. Mr. McConville is secretary of the Schenectady Labor Temple Association.

EDITORIAL

THE UNITED ELECTRICAL WORKERS OF CHICAGO AND VICINITY.

Numerous requests are received daily at the International Office seeking information concerning an organization that has adopted the title of "The United Electrical Workers of Chicago and Vicinity." The actual plans, policies and motives of this organization are unknown to the International Office. All the information we have is the same character of information that has been sent to the local unions by circular letter or conveyed to them by the publication known as the "Boomerang" and is understood to be the official organ of the United Electrical Workers of Chicago and Vicinity. The first information the International Organization had concerning "The United Electrical Workers of Chicago and Vicinity" was a communication that reached us December 9th, signed by W. J. Barrett. This communication advised the International headquarters that Locals 822, 315, 779 and 282 had formed a council.

We were led to believe from the communication received that the four local unions organizing the council and perhaps others in Chicago and vicinity, intended the council to be the means of bringing about a closer relationship among the local unions whose jurisdiction was in close proximity to one another.

The first information we had that the council intended to extend its activities so as to be national or international in scope was upon receipt of the circular letter dated January 17th. This was supplemented by a copy of a publication called the "Boomerang" which is claimed to be the official organ of "The United Electrical Workers of Chicago and Vicinity."

The information most generally requested by local unions is:

"If the national meeting that is to be called, according to the circular of January 17th, some time in March, is with the knowledge and approval of the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers."

"If local unions sending delegates will receive any compensation concerning railroad fare, etc., the same as they received when attending International Conventions."

"If the meeting has been authorized by the proper Brotherhood officials and called in accordance with the constitution."

To this, we can only state that the meeting, if one is to be held, is called without those issuing the call having consulted the International Organization, without any request for our approval of such meeting and we can only advise local unions who may attend the meeting that all expenses must be defrayed, insofar as we know, by the local unions themselves, unless "The United Electrical Workers of Chicago and Vicinity" decide to provide the financial assistance to Local Unions attending. In our judgment their financial condition precludes such a possibility.

As many of the letters requesting information ask the question as to what the necessity of such an organization as the "United Electrical Workers of Chicago and Vicinity" is, we can only answer that those promoting the organization are the only ones who seem to understand the necessity of such an institution. We would assume, however, that those promoting the movement consider that the council would be a more satisfactory medium for the organized electrical workers of the United States and Canada to obtain improved wages and working conditions than the International Brotherhood is. Otherwise, we do not suppose that the promoters of the council would invite the Brotherhood members to spend their money in supporting the council, one thing would seem certain there is no need to support both the Council and the Brotherhood, so members should decide which seems to be most valuable.

In the "Boomerang" there appears a number of attractive catch phrases setting forth the object of the council to be to reduce "to the minimum, jurisdiction disputes, stabilize working conditions, establish universal minimum wage, eliminate czar rule and bring democracy to the organized electrical worker, and to provide a universal working card." If it is upon such principles, the council is actually established, we cannot see where the council offers any advantages to the membership as the promoters have simply copied in a small way the Brotherhood's principles.

The authors of the "Boomerang," at least by inference, could well convey the impression to those who may read it that none of the things that they declare to be necessary to bring happiness, prosperity and peace to the organized electrical workers is provided by the International Brotherhood at the present time. The "Boomerang" again infers that through the simple process of affiliating with the council, it will be possible for the electrical workers to obtain a national agreement with the Bell, Western Union, Postal Telegraph, General Electric, Western Electric, Packing Industries, Steel Industry, large Light and Power Companies, and a universal minimum wage in all such industries, and we assume they mean in any other industries that may now or hereafter exist. If the membership of the brotherhood believes all these things can be obtained so easily, it would be well for them to identify themselves with the council and the International officers will volunteer to lead the procession, but first we believe it advisable to have something more substantial than somebody's word for such rosy claims. To thinking men it sounds too much like oil stock literature.

Just why the promoters of the council consider a national meeting of representatives of the organized electrical workers of the United States and Canada necessary, so closely following the close of the largest, the most harmonious, and most progressive convention the electrical workers ever held, we do not know. Their circular calling for the meeting is dated exactly seventeen days after the laws proposed almost unanimously by the last regular convention and adopted by a referendum majority of 35,000 votes by the membership became operative. How these promoters can arrive at the conclusion that these laws do not provide the machinery the members desire, inasmuch as there has been no opportunity to test the machinery, is another matter on which we cannot provide information and would refer you to the promoters.

The apparent slogan adopted by the promoters of the council is to make the organized electrical workers three hundred thousand strong before the next convention. With the progress made by the Brotherhood during the two years prior to the New Orleans Convention, coupled with the progress made since, we consider the slogan of three hundred thousand obsolete, and still stand by the Brotherhood's slogan of "One Hundred Percent Organization of Electrical Workers by next Convention."

We have given all the information concerning the council that our limited knowledge relative to it will allow. If our opinion as to results might be desired, about all we can see that you would get for any money you might spend would be, perhaps, a receipt.

Representatives of the United Mine Workers introduced evidence before the National Commission that is considering the coal miners' controversy that shows the miners receive 98c a ton for digging coal. In mining centers coal retails for $3.75 per ton. Will the consumer be considered a "Bolshevik" if he asks "Who gets the rest?"

THE DRIVE ON LABOR.

Noticeable hostility in certain quarters toward organized labor has developed in the past few months. Well planned, systematic campaigns against labor have been opened by Chambers of Commerce, Associations of Employers, and other agencies who should be promoting industrial peace rather than stimulating an already aggravated case of industrial unrest. Much newspaper space is used in publishing glaring advertisements subscribed to by business men in various localities advocating the "open shop" and endeavoring to prejudice the public against Labor. Newspaper cartoonists and editorial writers use their skill and talents to cast odium on organized labor. The moving picture is another medium used for displaying exaggerated and misrepresentative methods of business agents or so called walking delegates. Attempts now are made to discredit the same agents of Labor, who were so highly commended during the war, for their activities in keeping the wheels of production moving when pro-German agencies were fomenting strikes. All for what? Principally to attract the public's attention from the commercial bandits and business profiteers that have the consuming public by the throat choking the highest possible price out of the consumer for necessities of life. These industrial vandals are fully as much of a menace to the peace and welfare of the country as the alien radicals who recently were herded together and placed upon the "ark" and deported to foreign shores.

The present drive on Labor is only a repetition of the efforts of the Citizen's Alliance of fifteen years ago. The Alliance has long since departed and has been forgotten. Organized Labor, the institution it set out to destroy, still remains a potent factor many times stronger than ever and will continue to grow and increase its influence for good. Organized Labor has a mission to fulfill. It is the instrument that is bringing economic justice to the workers and the great mass of people, and so long as such justice does not prevail Labor organizations will continue to function and receive the support of the great mass of citizens. Within a few months the present organized group of commercial and business pirates who are trying to hide their own despicable profiteering behind an attack on the Labor Movement will be resting along side of the Citizen's Alliance in Folly's graveyard "Gone also Forgotten."

SUPPRESSING UNREST.

According to the ideas of some of the National and State law makers the way to suppress unrest is to take away rather than extend people's rights. Evidently the august statesmen advocating such methods have forgotten they are identical with the methods employed by the crowned monarchs of Europe, which failed of permanent success. Czars and kaisers filled salt mines and prisons with subjects, who protested against such policies, but failed to suppress or stifle the determination of the people to have a voice in affairs and the privilege of self-government. Similarly, Messrs. Palmer, Sterling, Cumming, et al., can propose all the repressive laws they desire but will fail in denying to the people the right to govern themselves. It is such attempts at arbitrary invasion of the people's rights that stimulate unrest; it is the very food the disciples of disorder fatten on. One attempt, whether successful or not, to trespass upon the people's rights and deny justice to them produces more dissatisfaction than the propaganda of ten thousand Berkman's or the activities of a similar number of Goldman's. Equality of rights and impartial justice is the only known cure for unrest.

Correspondence

L. U. NO. 4, NEW ORLEANS, LA.

Editor:

On Jan. 14th this Local installed the following officers for the coming term:

President, Frank Bulger.

Vice-President, Geo. M. Niemeyer.

R. S., J. Rosenthal.

F. S., H. Lagarde.

Treas., R. L. Reilly.

Press Sec'y., Ed. M. Smith.

1st. Inspector, F. Barbach.

2nd Inspector, J. Rendelhuber.

Foreman, D. H. Bowen.

The executive board members are R. Estrade, A. Rancon, A. Spies, G. Walters, L. Doussan, C. Donellan.

Trustees, J. Meyers, W. McCabe.

Delegates to C. F. and L. Council, R. L. Reilly, F. H. Spooner.

Alternates, J. Rosenthal, H. Lagarde.

The above Brothers are all true Union men. They are always on the alert to better our conditions and I am sure they will make No. 4 an efficient set of officers. Brother Niemeyer acted as President at our last meeting on account of Brother Bulger being sick, and he conducted the meeting in an orderly and decorous manner besides getting it over in a hurry without leaving any of the business undone. Brother Geo. Niemeyer is conscientious in everything he undertakes to do. Brothers of No. 4 come to meeting and greet your new officers by backing them up. To all Locals, Please put your seal on all communications that you send this Local or else its going in the waste basket. The P. S. of 142 has arrived again. Good. We missed you Brother and we really like your back fire chats. I am glad to see them in the January Worker. We had Brothers Bulger, Mavor, Herkender and a few other Brothers on the sick list, but they are better now. The flue has started again down here. Work is not much here at present as I don't know of any Company wanting men.

My best wishes to the Brotherhood. I am

Fraternally yours,

Ed M. Smith,

P. S.

P. S. of 142 why hold your name. Come out and reveal your identity. You have nothing to be ashamed of..

Editor:

The members think I have got a pull with you as I was lucky enough to get my last spasm in the Worker and have elected me press secretary. I am not good at the comedy so will be serious. I started out to organize all the electrical workers in the Northwest, but find that it is some job and have had to call for help.

Received a call the other day from Bro. A. J. Koerner of 626 Aberdeen, S. D., he tells me that No. 626 is doing a good work in South Dakota and is lining up the electrical workers with great speed.

Brother Mitchel of 23 is still going and nothing seems to stop him. Believe me he is some hustler if he only had a fliver or an aeroplane he would be all right.

Local No. 24 initiated 209 new members during the last ten months of 1919 and we are now starting a membership drive and offering prizes as follows:

First prize—$20.00.

Second prize—$10.00.

Third Prize—Pair gold I. B. E. W. cuff buttons.

Any member who gets three or more members will receive a gold lapel button.

We expect to take at least 200 applications during this contest. Just wait we are going to put this part of the U. S. A. on the map so that it will stay.

The Minneapolis General Electric Co. is nearly 90 per cent organized now and this is by far stronger than we have ever been there before. The boys over there have been talking about a raise and I expect that they will be presenting a request for more wages soon.

Ma Bell has been using mustard gas or some other old kind of B. S. but we get them just the same. The funny part is that some of the fellows fall for that small town stuff.

This is a sample:

Boss "Jump in and ride over with me." You are a bright young man and I suppose are looking for promotion."

Lineman—"Yes".

Boss—"Well you know you can't be a foreman as long as you belong to the union."

Lineman—"Well then I will be a lineman all my life."

Another thing we have been having poor meetings and the enemy has taken advantage of it and has been passing the word around that No. 24 is on her last legs that there are only a few light men left and only two or three telephone men in the local and some of the fellows fall for that stuff.

I sometimes think that some of the fellows are not dead but are only sleeping. believe me there will be something doing when they wake up.

I wish very much that locals that work for light and power companies that are part of the H. M. Bylsbee interests would communicate with me sending me your conditions.

If Tom Hawes is where he sees this I wish he would write me.

E. M. Stanchfield,

Press Secretary.

The following news item appeared in the San Antonio Light on January 29:

Open Shop Men Meet Here to Perfect Organization.

A temporary organization of the Southwestern Open Shop Association was formed at a meeting of secretaries of associations and employers from 18 principal cities of Texas, Oklahoma and Louisiana, at the offices of the San Antonio Open Shop Association in the Bedell Building yesterday. F. O. Thom, secretary of the San Antonio association, was chosen chairman of the temporary organization, and Saul Sal of the Beaumont association, secretary.

Permanent organization of the Southwestern Association will be effected at a meeting to be held some time within the next two weeks, Mr. Thom said. Neither the date for this meeting nor the place has been definitely decided upon, but it will not be held in San Antonio, Mr. Thom said.

No doubt there are some towns in the above states mentioned that have no active Open Shop Association and the Locals there will say, "We should worry, there is no open shop in our midst," but right there brothers you will find out you are badly mistaken when you make any demands on your employers, for the Open Shop Association will be Johnny on the Spot to offer your employer assistance to defeat your demands, as they maintain an assorted conglomeration of rats for just such a purpose which will be sent to assist your employer. It is their intention to fight each Local Union separately in this manner, as this was clearly demonstrated in the Dallas trouble. Things here were starting to readjust themselves and the rats were thrown out of employment, then the Open Shop Association herded them all together and sent them to Dallas to fight the Electrical Workers there, when they are through at Dallas who will be next? Now there is about only one solution to such a situation and that is, when you make any demands let all Locals in this District make them on the same date, and then let them try and get enough rats to supply the demand. It has been shown that by their concentration of rats in one locality they have been more or less successful in defeating our ends. We must have concerted action in this matter. Remember the old saying, "United we stand, divided we fall."

Yours truly,

One-Round Brown,
Press Sec'y.

Editor:

As news, strictly speaking, is rather scarce at this time, due, in all probability, to the fact that conditions are somewhat unsettled, we will have to fall back on the election held at the first of the year as our chief contribution.

The results of this election were as follows: President, James Futrell; Vice-President, E. M. Green; Financial Secretary, the same old reliable, F. J. Gates; Recording Secretary, George E. Dawson; Treasurer, R. A. Smith; Foreman, J. H. Barton; First Inspector, H. H. Harvey; Second Inspector, W. C. Bolton; Trustees, Sam Tischler, F. O. Schneider, V. G. Reynolds; Executive Board, S. H. Roberts, A. E. Weed, W. Argue, H. H. Harvey and W. C. Bolton.

Our erstwhile Recording Secretary, Geo. G. Roberts was elected business agent for the present six-months term.

In conclusion we will state that work is fairly good at the present time and supply is about equal to demand.

With very best wishes to the Worker and a promise of further contributions in the near future, we are,

Fraternally yours,

Editor:

Several thousand men from all crafts of the Building Trades faced the zero weather to attend a Labor Mass meeting which was held at Memorial Hall the evening of Jan. 13, 1920. This meeting was called for the express purpose of establishing a better fellowship and understanding between the different crafts that may come in contact with one another on any particular job, and to try and find a way to eliminate any jurisdictional disputes, which by the way is one of the greatest drawbacks to retard the progress of organized labor we have to combat in the labor movement at the present time. These difficulties very seldom, if ever arise on a job of sheer consequence. But on the other hand invariably come up on a Building that stipulates none but union labor, a clean job throughout, which job may figure into the thousands of dollars and tie up several hundred card men for weeks at a time, simply because one craft is too bull-headed to reason with the other. Every one in this locality that I have been in touch with that attended that meeting surely was pleased with the impression the speakers left, not only from an educational standpoint, but from actual facts that have had a tendency to cause ill-feeling between the various crafts of our people.

Until we find out once and for all times, that in order to further our movement, make our conditions better, realize a better compensation for our labor, we must get away from these petty-grievances that do neither of us any good. But on the contrary keep the Labor Movement from making the progress it should, were it not for these very disputes. Among the speakers present were: Brother H. H. Broach who by the way gave a most remarkable talk on the H. C. L. and the ways and means our Government could enforce our laws to cope with the situation. Other speakers of the evening were Pete Hassenflue, president Ohio Building Trades Council, Cleveland, Ohio; Chas. J. Case, Secretary-Treasurer, Ohio Building Trades Council, Cincinnati, Ohio; Chas. Dickson, General Organizer, Plumber's and Steamfitters, Newark, N. J.; William Shea, General Organizer, Painter's and Decorator's, Louisville, Ky.; James S. Hays, Int. V. P., Plasterers and Cement Finishers, Detroit, Mich.; Alfred J. Taubman, Int. V. P. Bricklayers Union, Cleveland, Ohio; Geo. H. Lakey, Int. V. P., Carpenters and Joiners, Indianapolis, Indiana and Brother H. H. Broach, Int. V. P., I. B. E. W., Minneapolis, Wis.

I notice in the Worker of December, that one of the brothers is strong for the American Legion. Would like to state briefly if any of the wire fixers would like to know what the real platform and aims of the American Legion happen to be, would he kindly get a copy of the January issue of the Metropolitan Magazine in which General Leonard Wood points out very clearly what a wonderful help they and their machine guns would be in keeping law and order in case of race riots, difficulties between Capital and Labor, etc. Personally I can't see, after these same men have went overseas, fought and some gave their all for the cause of Democracy and then to come back to their own native land and band themselves together for the express purpose of aiding and abetting those whose desire it is to see the worker in a position where he can neither command or demand anything that will benefit him morally or financially. Where is all this so-called Democracy they were all yelling their heads off about during the terrible days of the war. Surely this is not labors reward for their loyalty and stability to their government during such a crisis. In conclusion might state that the electrical workers of No. 82 will give their annual ball February 17, 1920, to which all members and their families are looking forward to with much promise of a good time such as only electrical workers the world over know how to give. With success to all, I remain,

Fraternally yours,

Having been duly elected and ordained to the position of press agent I will proceed with the official chatter for the month of Local No. 86.

At our last election, Brother Connel was reelected by an overwhelming majority to the position of business agent which speaks for itself. Our new president, Brother Mattox has the right idea in starting the meetings on time and avoiding all unnecessary discussions on the floor which has been one of the bad features prevalent at our gatherings.

On April the first (April Fool's Day) our new agreement comes before the local contractors for their close pursual. The new rules should prove interesting to them especially those paragraphs which pertain to wages. "Loud squaks."

On Feb. 18, Local 86 will give a smoker in the meeting rooms after the regular order of business. All electrical workers are invited to bring their smoking jackets. The latter part of the month we expect the fair sex to join us in the big event of the season which will be a banquet at our celebrated Powers Hotel. Work at present has slackened off a trifle, but there seems to be plenty in view for next summer. Hoping this letter will find you as well as it leaves me, I remain,

Yours fraternally,

A. B. Bruezicki.

P. S.—If Brother Clark of Philadelphia sees this letter, I would deem it a favor if he would drop me a line and tell me of his last trip in France and when he arrived home. Also would like to hear from Bro. George Sprague or from anybody who is acquainted with his whereabouts.

L. U. NO. 92, SAN FRANCISCO, CALIF.

Editor:

It has been a year since our Local sent in anything for publication in the Worker, and as is usually the case when no other Brother will act as Press Secretary, the Recording or Financial Secretary falls in for the work.

This local is chartered as a Telephone Local and has jurisdiction over all Telephone Work in and around San Francisco except Cable Splicing.

At present we are endeavoring to negotiate a new agreement with the Bell Telephone Co. We do not anticipate any trouble as we all know that the Bell companies all over the country have plenty of work which was held up during the war for various reasons.

A number of attempts have been made in the last three months to start among the employees of the Company, the new type of labor organization known as the American or Gary Plan, but our members (most of whom have carried cards in the I. B. E. W. for years) are not to be led into any such scheme, which has for its object the tearing down of conditions which have taken some sixteen years to build up.

Our newly elected International President Brother Jas. P. Noonan is now on the Pacific Coast and I believe before he leaves our agreement will be signed up as in previous years.

As a delegate to the last convention I voted for a resolution calling for International Representatives to organize Telephone workers in certain districts. I would like to hear from some of the locals around the country as to what wages and condition are paid by the Bell companies in their districts. I personally do not believe the Brotherhood will have much success organizing the Telephone Workers of the entire Bell system as they should be, unless chartered as Telephone Locals with their own jurisdiction the same as the railroad men have.

Now Brothers the new Constitution has been adopted, while I was not in full accord with all its new sections I believe (as I heard remarked a few nights ago) we should all either fish or cut bait and strive to the end that this Brotherhood should be second to none in membership in the A. F. of L.

By the adoption of proposition No. 2 which the membership was pretty well divided on I see one good to be derived by its adoption. Many locals who never attend a convention and were not satisfied with the new laws adopted by the delegates and voted them down on the referendum will now have to build up a convention fund of their own and see that they are fully represented in future conventions.

Trusting that my first letter to the Worker will pass the Censor, I remain,

Fraternally,

O. H. M. Gillicuddy,
Press Secretary.

Conditions around the jurisdiction of Local 122 I. B. E. W. all serene. Our dance was a financial success because we had a capable chairman, Brother Daniel Goggans, also a fine working committee on interior electrical decorations. Work is very normal here at the present time. But this coming spring it may be better. Let us hope so because we need the work to get the coin. From the weather point of view we expect an early building season this coming spring. Inside men expect a new scale of wages. They need more money to overcome the high cost of living. We are having considerable snow fall. Of course that means moisture to this country we need it so much for the success of the farmers. Three dry years in succession. Nevertheless we will win out. Let us all hope so.

Well it is time to change the batteries, and it seems as if there were some to overhaul, especially among the telephone workers. Over one-half are dead which the minority of the rest of them are always able to supply enough energy to keep themselves in action and the balance of the workers are over worked, and striving hard as they can to supply a flow of current for the idle ones and a share for themselves. Although I will state, that the main issue for all of this is, we have never had a representative from the general office, one who would tell the boss that he had an agreement which was framed by telephone workers (and not the company's proposal) and is to be and will be presented to the company and for them to get busy and adopt same at an early date, and that was what the workers all wanted and no less.

The G. O. has had for some time and is still maintaining a representative by the name of Grasser in Frisco, but no one would know it, for he is a dead one, or a battery without a terminal, I call it.

But now there is a big change in the G. O. which at present looks very good, at least they have shown some life as one way of terming it.

We have in our midst Brother Tom Vickers, a good live wire with a terminal that will carry the load to be sure and if the workers do not connect up with him and his ways it will show the Circuit is open, and you will have to go all over the circuit and insulate against company proposal and storeroom propaganda company associations, etc. I know Tom Vickers will make good and the workers must get in with him and make a stand like was never made before. I must say if Bro. Tom was with us during the trouble in 1917 and 1919, the condition left in the brotherhood on this coast would be different.

And now I want to state when Vickers gets through sweating on the final lug you will be stronger than any Willard battery ever made, and then if you can't keep up your amperage you had better go back to the hand generator on the one wire system and your ring will be one long and two short.

Financial Secretary and Treasurer—T. E. Strauss.

Foreman—Roy Hill.

Trustee—J. J. Sheridan.

Press Secretary—E. H. Jaekel.

Trades and Labor Delegates—Harry Meska, A. E. Gibbons and T. E. Strauss.

Building Trades Delegates—Walt. Malrich, Jim Moran, Harry Meska.

We have had some lively and interesting meetings of late. Our new wage agreement is well under way. We are only getting 60c per with a 48-hour week, but the boys are looking for a 44-hour week at 90c per hour.

We have also put a ban on apprentices as we have a full quota now.

A new firm started in business, incorporated at $25,000, viz: The Linker Elec. Co. Mr. Ph. Linker at one time was an active member of this local.

We are anticipating a good year with a lot of new construction started.

L. U. NO. 156, FT. WORTH, TEX.

Editor:

Yes, Local Union No. 156 has a press secretary, but for some reason he has pulled his plugs, so I will pen a few lines from the best burg in Texas.

First, we elected the following officers in December: President, George Hill; Vice-President, A. L. Parker; Recording Secretary, J. P. Roberts; Financial Secretary and Treasurer, Chas. Funkhouser; Trustee, W. B. Melton, and as our Press Secretary, Bro. J. O. Dorsey. As Brother Dorsey has been a real live one while acting as Financial Secretary and Business Agent, I feel sure the brothers will see something from No. 156 very often now.

We raised our initiation fee to $50.00 in October 1919 and our dues to $2.00 beginning January 1, 1920.

On account of the strike we have on all over Texas where the Texas Power & Light Company operates—work in this part of the country is no good for linemen, in fact nearly all of our own members have left town. We still have the strike on the T. P. & L. Co., so would ask all brothers to keep this in mind and pay no attention to advertisement and reports to the contrary for we will notify all through the Worker when this strike is settled. We are putting on an active fight in the oil fields especially and are hurting the Company to a great extent as they can't get long tails enough to do their work.

We have established a scale of $7.00 for linemen and if we can get a settlement from the T. P. & L. Co. work here will be fine.

Local Union No. 116, the inside men of this city were on strike from Jan. 1st up till today. They asked for $10.00 per day, but compromised for $8.00 for the first half of the year and $8.50 for the last half. Contractors to furnish tools, such as stock and dies and etc.

As I expect Brother Dorsey will have a letter in our Journal, I will close with best wishes for a prosperous year to all locals and members.

Chas. Funkhouser, F. S.

Editor:

Our Local is still holding out against the T. P. & L. Co. A number of our boys are working for other concerns, getting better wages than they asked of the T. P. & L. Co. The inside local boys went on strike Jan. 1st, but returned Jan. 12th, getting a raise of $1.00 per day, making it $8.00 per until June 30th, at which time they are to get $8.50 per, which "helps some."

Our Local has raised initiation to $50, and the dues to $2.00, which fact may cause some of the boys to grip their cards a bit tighter and be more careful about going delinquent.

Our boys are scattered somewhat, but every last one of them is making good, not only as mechanics, but as dependable members, and substantial citizens. In fact, they all seem imbued with a spirit of good will toward each other, toward our grand officers, toward every body, which feeling is going to make them winners in every sense of the word.

Ye scribe is having a hard "drag" of it, but is game as ever. Best wishes to all members.

Just a few words from Local 205. This is an entirely new job to me having acquired, or rather had thrust upon me at our last meeting, but nevertheless will try and do justice to same.

All the boys of 205 are anxiously awaiting the answer of Director General Hines in regard to demands presented last fall. At this writing nothing has been said, but we are all expecting an increase, but no one knows how much. We all trust, however to have it settled favorable to all concerned.

Sorry to say this month that we recently took one of our worthy brothers, Jones, to the hospital with pneumonia and are all wishing him a speedy recovery.

Trusting this brief epistle reaches your office in time to go to press, will close. Local 205 remains, with best wishes to I. B. E. W.

Editor:

All of the past year I am glad to say has been one of the best for working conditions in New Bedford, and for help here we don't know what to do. Everybody want men. In opening our charter it helped us a great deal, finding help for the shops and different jobs. The factories and mills here are coming our way more every day, most all of them are doing away with their engines and equipping their plants with electricity, besides that most all the mills are building, therefore making it good for all crafts here. We also, have schools, theatres, bank, hotel, and other buildings under construction. So the year ahead of us looks very bright. We have well attended meetings and things are rolling fine in New Bedford.

At our annual election the following officers were elected for the year 1920:

President—Brother Geo. Sanderson.
Vice President—Brother F. Freitas.
Treasurer—Brother L. Frost.
Financial Secretary—Brother J. H. Griffin.

Recording Secretary—G. A. Winterburn.
First Inspector—Brother Wilbur.
Second Inspector—Brother W. Clegg.
Foreman—Brother Willson.
Trustee—Brother Marshall.
Executive Board—Brothers J. H. Griffin, E. Marshall, Stevens and F. Freitas.
Building Trades Council—Brothers F. Freitas, E. Marshall, and Geo. Sanderson.
Center Labor Union—E. Marshall, Geo. Sanderson, Wilbur J. Murphy and Graham.

L. U. NO. 225, NORWICH, CONN.

Editor:

Greetings to all Local Unions.

Are we living? Oh, yes, well, alive, here in Norwich. For a city of its size and being the rose of New England, it does put in a bit of joy in one's line to work under condition of L. U. 225. Have we wire stringers here in Norwich? Well, I should say yes. And credit is due them, a number of fine clean-cut, intelligent, young fellows.

Have you seen Norwich? It is not situated on a plain, but my advice would be to visit this city in the summer time, or carry along a boat and a load of sand if you come in the winter.

It is situated on the Thames river. At times you may see a wash tub floating down the river (wind driven). But a sail down the famous Thames, you will not see the great Royal Naval College, but our famous submarine base is there, our Royal observatories on Zero Meridian. Our Conn. Women's College is there. There is no comparison whatsoever with the old Thames and old London at the present time, but it will no doubt be up to the mark some day, if we are living to see it.

A short time ago we held a smoker in Westerly for the Westerly Brothers, and will say that it did seem good to get a good number of the old timers together and it was very much enjoyed by all. Our regular meetings in Westerly are every 2nd and 4th Tuesdays of the month at Calodian hall, and no doubt they will all keep interested for the future. Prospects look very good.

New members are coming in at our meetings and in a very short time everything will be in fine shape.

Now here in Norwich we will hold our meetings on the 1st and 3rd Fridays from now on or if it is not satisfactory will shift to Monday nights again.

Our meetings are very well attended at the present, but we are looking for more. Our little brother, M. C. Grory is good and was no doubt an insurance collector back along Lectures on Disable Benefits, Sick Benefits, life Policies or Endowment policies. There is no one to touch him. Come up and see him.

Our Brother Benj. Goldfarb slides up quite often and keeps things burning. He looks quite natural pushing through the city in his "fliver." But when it comes to a clean-up with a "fliver" we must expect to see a puck and paint knocked off.

Well, everything in Norwich is quiet, but all Brothers are working. And if all proposed work starts up in the spring it will keep about all our brothers out of mischief.

With best wishes,

H. H. Bernier, Pres. Sec.

L. U. NO. 243, SAVANNAH, GA.

Editor:

Bang! Here goes Local No. 243 again. Just a few lines to let the Brothers hear from 243, and the land of Herring-Chokers and Little Willies.

Well boys, we are doing fine and growing every day. We have a signed agreement with the Savannah Lighting Co. and have placed the Savannah Electric Co. (A Stone and Webster Co., and one of Organized Labor's worst enemies) on the unfair list. We have had a hard fight on against these birds for the past year but at last gained one of the greatest victories for Organized Labor; they have called for the (calf rope) and gone in the hands of a Receiver.

C. C. Paul, Card No. 268443, out of Local No. 109, Rock Island, Ill., deposited his card in our Local September 26, 1919. He has gone to work for the Savannah Electric Co. after being told that our men had been pulled off the job. We think it advisable to let all other locals know about this.

We are expecting to give (Mother Bell) H before long as we are now about 95 per cent strong and soon expect to be 100 per cent. At our regular election of officers, our worthy Brother, L. E. Woodward was reelected President. Well boys; that's about all the news this trip. We always extend a hearty welcome to all our Brothers any time they may happen this way.

Yours truly,

L. O. Gann, P. S.

L. U. NO. 267, SCHENECTADY, N. Y.

Editor:

Local No. 267, I. B. E. W. of Schenectady, N. Y. enjoyed themselves at an entertainment and Smoker January 10th at Bohemian Hall. Past President, H. L. McDougall was handsomely remembered by the members for his efforts in the past for the good and welfare of the organization. President elect B. A. Cawley, the father of our organization in a very fitting and appropriate speech touched on the activity of Past President McDougall in his three years as head executive of our local and presented him with an overcoat and fur cap followed by a bill fold which contained the only prescription that is said to be a sure cure for the "H. C. of L." (pres. No. $190.00). The members drank a toast to the health, wealth and prosperity of their old friend "Mc" and again to the following toast given by Recording Secretary A. V. Gould.

Here's to our Old friend "Mac"

Local 267 is at his back

And we'll boost him wherever we can

For he's stuck by us through thick and thin

And we've always found him a man.

And now he leaves us at the start of the year

To go out inspecting track

But any old time he don't like his job

We'll see that our "Mac" comes back.
For ne'er a little local that does things
We never make any bluffs.
And our Old friend "Mac" would be welcome back

For we know he is of the right stuff.
Now this inspectors job is on the outside
So we thought we would get him a coat
We can tell by the way that he appears
That for once we have got Mac's goat
For he didn't know a D—thing about this
And we didn't mean that he should
So we got him a cap to keep his ears warm
We thought that would be pretty good
Also a prescription a sure cure for the
H. C. of L.

And when "Mac" cashes that check at the Bank

He'll sure know we all wish him well.

Jack Regan, Chairman of the Committee

"Happy" Flynn.....Irish Monologue
"Abie" Gold.....Stutterings
Bouck Bros.....Buck and wing dancing
Prof. Geo. Higgins.....Occorena Solo
"Jack" Regan.....Scotch Songs
James "Battling" McGinnis and sparing partner.....4 round Exhibition
"Jack" Horrigan and "Jack" Regan..
.....Wrestling bout
"Our Little I've" Mead..Sentimental Songs

The Boxing Exhibition was full of pep from start to finish, and referee, Al Rinehart had his hand full. The Turnbills should never waste their time running cranes "Happy" Flynn was a scream.

Prof. Higgins could sure eat that "Sweet Potato"; Jack Regan had everythin Scotch but the kilts Bouck Bros. could sure buck and then some; Our Little Joe's songs were enjoyed by all. The wrestling match between "Jack" Horrigan and "Jack" Regan was called off on account of an injury to Horrigan's arm sustained while cranking his automobile. "Jack" favored us with a talk on autos and he can talk on autos especially since he has been running in the Labor Bulletin contest for one, and take it from Local 267 he is going to win. The eats prepared by our own experienced chefs Bros. Gumlicka and Van Wagner were O. K. and the members declared it was a night that would live long in the memories of all who had been fortunate enough to be present.

L. U. NO. 296, BERLIN, N. H.

Editor:

No. 296 is progressing fast. We are 100 per cent strong at the Cascade plant and have a few applications from up above (Berlin Mills). Are in hopes of having them 100 per cent before summer rolls along. Burgess is our tough proposition.
Seems impossible to even get them started.

No. 296 will hold its first concert and ball on the 12th of February. Everybody cordially invited. There is some talk of a general increase coming. Here's hoping that it's true.

We are getting some very cold weather which makes it damned unpleasant for outside men.

Bros. Finkle and Palmer are the two big men as far as our concert and ball is concerned. It's a sure bet that the time will be a good one, as they are both live wires and understand every phase of the game.

Go to it brothers and hand us the best there is to be had. Show the townspeople and other tradesmen that the Electrical Workers are there with lots of pep.

Fraternally,

Press Secretary.

L. U. NO. 313, WILMINGTON, DEL.

Editor:

Well Brothers both domestic and foreign home guards are still on the job, though at the present time there is not much doing in the building line on account of the cold weather, but we have no room to kick.

Wilmington is now assured a Labor Temple as an association has been chartered and nearly all the craft unions have already taken out initial stock. By the time all the men belonging to the different locals have been canvassed, we feel sure that Wilmington will be able to put up as testimony of organized labor, a structure that will be a credit not only to the men directly interested in it but to the city.

In looking through December's Worker we see the returns on the voting for the acceptance and rejection of the Constitutional Amendment and take notice that in some of the larger locals there must have been a steam roller on the job or a father with a great many children, asking him what to do. Though we will admit there might have been a unanimous vote for the amendment as it was drafted at the convention, but where there is such a large family as from 500 to 3,700 it stands to reason that all would not have the same opinion and vote the same way.

The referendum was sent out to let every man vote as his mind thought fit and should be had that privilege. I think the constitutional amendment of the Brotherhood of the Electrical Workers drafted at the 1919 convention would have gone down to defeat; but instead pop said it must live and sonny could do nothing but vote for it for pop said it must not die like old John Barleycorn.

So you see the little locals have not got very much chance unless they get together and do things with home pep. I think that if the small locals had got in touch with each other more, they could have accomplished a great deal more in the way of having a constitution drawn that would have been of greater benefit to them.

Our Financial Secretary, W. J. Outten, a man that we all must admit has got the pep to start and finish a thing, has been elected treasurer of the Central Labor Union, which had the election of officers for the ensuing year on Tuesday, January 20th, and we feel sure that his election to that office will be of great assistance to No. 313.
From the looks of things it is very much in evidence that the other crafts are relying upon the movements of 313. So it can readily be seen that we as a union are trying to pull together and make things fit for a working man to have comfort and pleasure out of his work.

Hoping to have some real Building Trade news in the near future, I am

Fraternally yours,

Having this job thrust upon me, thought I would try and let the Brotherhood know how Local No. 329 is progressing. We just got our agreement through with the Light, without any trouble at all so we avoided a strike. Journeymen lineman, $7.00; Foreman, $7.80; eight hours, four wages and 44 hour week; double time for Saturday afternoon and all holidays which makes Shreveport good now and the Home Telephone also signed up for $6.00, eight hours, four ways. They are only working two linemen. There seems to be quite a bit of work in this vicinity with the Oil Company. All the brothers of the rolling stone society seems to land here with oil companies. We are trying to get a new agreement through with these companies for $6.40 and board, nine hours, 4 ways and double time for Sunday. Now if we get this agreement through, brothers it won't be so bad. As far as applications, we are taking in from five to six every meeting night because we sure have a business agent that is a hustler and none escape his eagle eye. His name is R. D. Hickey, so Brothers of the rolling stone society if you are figuring on hitting this way, be sure to have that go away card in your pocket.

Wishing the Brotherhood success, I remain,
Yours respectfully,
A. Kessler.

I have delayed the writing of my contribution to this month's Worker in the hope that I would be able to announce the successful termination of our strike, upon which we embarked on January 1st, but I can see that I've got to make a splash pretty soon, or I'll have M. S. S. returned, (too late for press.) So strike or no strike, here it is.

We are now on our fifth week out and I wish someone would have a law passed to make strikes illegal between October and April, because it's too blamed cold to pound the bricks in the winter time, and I would much prefer to take mine down at the beach in the summer, with the mermaids, and what nobs floating around, especially the what nobs in my opinion, our merry little contractors. (They called each other "diseases" before the strike) worked the sign of the double cross on us because up to within three days of January 1st, they had all practically promised to pay our increase, in fact some of them were paying and had paid it for two months prior to our going on the cobbles. Then the fine Italian hand of our old friend the "Chamber of Commerce" shows itself and our paymasters are all tangled up with a mutual agreement and in an association which has for its head Mr. Chamber of Commerce, Secretary. Fine. They then send up by special messenger, three day's before our demands come due, a flat refusal of all our "Requests." So we throw out our pickets and do a little sleuthing, which shows us where all the jobs are, and with the aid of the "Building Trades Council" we sew up everything as tight as possible. Of course they are doing something, and I hope that some of them will get callouses on their lily white hands so there. We have had wonderful assistance from organizer, pardon me, representative Chas. Keaveney and our brand men I. V. P. Jack Smith of Boston. I read in last week's "Saturday Evening Post" an account of the doings of the Chamber of Commerce in Beaumont, Texas, and if this outfit isn't stepped on in this man's town pretty quick, I can see a parallel case right here. The nimble little secretary of the "Contractors Association" attempted to pass the buck to us tonight in the public press and wait till he sees what we do with that same buck in tomorrow night's edition. If they want to start a little long range literary war, I wish them luck, because we sure have got some high explosives in our ammunition dump and I guess we will find the guns to fire it.

Can't think of anything more to grouch about this time, so guess I'll quit and hope to have a detailed account of our first annual dance, February 17th, in the next letter. With best wishes to the Brotherhood at large and yourself in particular, I am

Fraternally yours,

L. H. Barrowclough,

Press Secretary.

Just a few lines from Local No. 417, I. B. E. W. to let the other locals know we are still on the map. There isn't anything new going on here but all the Brothers are working at present. We had an election of officers and our new president is Carl W. Mecum; Vice President, John Marshstellen; Recording Secretary, A. J. Kahene; Financial Secretary and Treasurer, Dave Baylor; First Inspector, Orlie Hall; Second Inspector, T. S. Bucher; Foreman, Ralph Mecum.

I think we have got a live bunch in office and we look forward to a good year. Mother Bell has a bunch in here just now rebuilding, but you all know how they are if you catch one of them and get to talk to him, it's the same old story. They all have, "I've been thinking about getting a card Brother, to be honest. I think the worst trouble with the I. B. E. W. is we have to many card men now. What I would like to see is more union men and not so many card men. If there is any thing I do hate is to see so many men that haven't got enough man to carry a card, only for the job. Be on if a man don't think enough of his card to keep it paid up only when he is working I would like to know what he is to the union, when it comes to trouble. As for me I would rather see him out of our way. My advice to all I. B. E. W. Brothers to stay clear of Kansas for the bill there has just passed is sure a hard one on all Mechanics. If all that is here could get out and none come in they would see what kind of laws they had here. We had Brother Elmer (Toots) Ramsey out of Waterloo, Iowa. He worked a while and then went on South and we haven't heard from him since. I sure would like to see all the boys like he is. If they were, our conditions over the country would be better. We have one of the refineries 100 per cent and the other one is just the reverse and there isn't any hopes of it ever being any other way. Well Brothers if any of you do come this way we would like for you to come and see us. We aren't rich, but can always treat a Brother right, so hoping these few lines will get to the Worker. Will try and do better next time. Wishing all the I. B. E. W. the best of success the country over, I will ring off for this time.

Respectfully yours,

Tom Brandenburg,

Editor:

This is to let you know that Local No. 434 is still alive, although things are a little dull here. Our prosperity depends on the price of, and the demand for, copper. We have a sliding scale of wages based on the price of copper and as there has not been much of a demand for copper, times are dull. There are a good many men out of work, but most of the electrical men drift just about as soon as they get let out. Some went on long vacations or quit when times began to get dull.

Brother J. C. McCunniff, the former Press Secretary from 434 took a long vacation and took his wife, who has been quite seriously ill for some time, to San Diego, Cal. in the hopes that the climate would help her. She died a few days ago and he brought the remains back here for burial. "Mac" was everybody's friend and words can not express our sympathy for him in his great loss.

Brother Gordon Broyles went to Palestine, Tex., in the hope of benefitting his health, which has not been very good. He was very prominent in labor circles and has the best wishes of a very wide circle of friends and acquaintances.

Brother James Garner has gone to California. Highlands is his address. Jimmie was a pretty good scout and we miss him here.

Brother E. T. Williams went to the oil fields for awhile. He was in town a few days ago but I believe has gone again.

There are some others but I cannot give their names or addresses now.

If any brothers come this way let them drop into the meeting on the second and fourth Friday evenings of the month at Trainmen's Hall at the corner of Sixteenth street and F avenue. The way things are now, I would hardly think it advisable to come here looking for work.

Fraternally,

This is to inform the Brotherhood that Local Union 444 is still alive and on the map, with a live membership of about forty members. We have plenty of work for the boys at present. The Chamber of Commerce tried to put a damper on the work here by declaring this to be an open shop town, but it seems their deal was "liken unto the Tower of Babel," it fell with its own weight. L. U. 444 is preparing to go for $1.12½ on May 1. We don't anticipate any trouble in getting our new scale.

L. U. NO. 483, TACOMA, WASH.

Editor:

Not being familiar with the date on which The Worker is supposed to go to press, I am sending in this letter with the hopes that it may reach Springfield in time for the February issue.

When the boys called upon me for a speech, after electing me as Press Secretary for the ensuing year. I informed them that insofar as I was concerned, the position of P. S. would not be looked upon as a standing joke. That I would at least let the outside world know that our local union was in existence.

Therefore, I hasten to inform the brothers at large that Local Union No. 483 is still doing business in pretty much the same old way, at the same old place, 1117½ Tacoma avenue.

In sending in our report of local happenings and events, we will try to confine ourselves to questions of first importance, and should we happen at any time to leave out certain interesting features, it will be because we do not wish to monopolize unnecessary space in The Worker.

At a specially arranged meeting held January 17, Bros. Vickers and Von Shritts, appointed by the Grand Office to take charge of the Telephone situation here on the coast, were present. Bro. Von is perhaps more favorably well known among those affected than any other man west of the Rockies.

Bro. Vickers is not so well known among the boys of the northwest, but his reputation, however, is first-class, and the message which he brings to us regarding the new policies mapped out by our Grand President has put new courage into our bones. Let us hope that the favorable impression thus awakened in the mind and hearts of the Telephone workers may be immediately taken advantage of.

The attempt now being made by the Company to organize its employees into petty associations based on vocation, if concurrent in, would place every worker completely at their mercy. Further explanations regarding this rotten plot we now leave to others directly in charge.

Referring to the unprecedented onslaught now being waged against organized labor and all other progressive movements, I now avail myself of the opportunity to refute some of the damnable lies that have been spread broadcast against the good people of this coast.

To begin with, I wish to state that I have been a resident of Washington and Oregon for over 30 years, and at no time have the people here ever shown a greater disposition to be peaceable and law abiding than since war was declared against Germany.

Organized labor has not only avoided and called off many a strike that would otherwise have taken place, but we have suffered and submitted to many impositions and abuses that were almost intolerable, lest we should embarrass the Government.

At this present time and ever since the armistice was signed, the kept press, designing politicians, certain Officers of high and low rank, a large army of contemptible spies and some of the courts who are always ready and anxious to serve corporate interests have tried to make it appear as if organized labor and every other group of progressives on this coast had gone stark crazy and were hell bent on stirring up a revolution to overthrow the Government.

The simple fact of the matter is, that the good people of this coast have never thought of such a thing as a revolution against the government established by our fore-fathers, but that they are on the other hand thinking very seriously about a peaceable revolution against the Money Huns of this republic.

That the great special interests of the country were greatly disturbed on account of the pre-war promises made to the common people, especially by President Wilson, is too painfully evident to require further comment.

So when the armistice was signed, knowing full well how seriously the people had taken these promises, the monopolizers of the main sources of subsistence in this country were immediately filled with great fear lest there should happen in this country a repetition of what had already happened in Europe.

Hence, all this activity, all these lies, all these repressions and all this violence. The Money Huns of this country have been virtually scared out of their wits, and as a consequence of all this, those who have been charged with evil deeds and evil intentions, instead of being guilty have simply been made the victims of the culprits who are at the bottom of all the trouble.

When the armistice was signed soldiers stationed at Camp Lewis and sailors who are always in evidence here on the Sound, many of whom were already union men and who were expecting at any time to be discharged, appeared at the Central Labor Councils of Seattle and Tacoma, expressing a wish on their part to organize and be affiliated with organized labor. What, let me ask, could be more natural than that we should receive these boys who had staked their lives upon the altar of their country.

But our motives were maliciously misconstrued. The Soldiers and Sailors Council was immediately branded by the kept press as Wobblies and Bolsheviks, and the American Money Huns at once got busy weeding out such discharged soldiers as they were able to influence, and from that day to this they have endeavored to incite these men to acts of violence and repression. This is the truth, the whole truth and nothing but the truth.

But out of the four million that enlisted or were drafted, all well informed union men know that they have not been able to muster a respectable corporal's guard. The Money Huns are extremely dangerous but be assured we do not fear them.

L. U. NO. 494, MILWAUKEE, WIS.

Editor:

As a tribute to the tireless efforts put forth by the officers of 494 during the year 1919, they have all been reelected, with few exceptions, they resume their former positions.

Conditions about Milwaukee are fair with a few members not working, with prospects brighter. The Herman Andrae Electrical Co. are still unfair to the I. B. E. W. and we are asking you to prevent them where ever possible, from posing as a fair contractor. As this firm employs from 125 to 175 men you can readily see what an advantage it would be to line them up.

The machinists have set an example of what can be accomplished by consistency. They had been on strike against the Power Mining Co. of Cudahy for seven months. The firm had refused to abide by the war boards decision both as to wages and back pay. The company tried every known method from suggests to injunctions to break the strike with no success.

Not a day passed that there were no pickets on the job. In order that they could continue through the winter a shack had been erected to house the men. The strike was settled a complete victory for the machinists and an example of what can be done by a dogged determination to win. No doubt they have picked this one shop for an example for they forgot all other shops in their effort to win one victory.

The following story is credited to one of our guardians of the rights of people, who serve the public by protecting the poor railroad stockholders:

"When Uncle Sam took over the roads, one of them that bisects Indiana was discovered to have on its payroll an old farmer who was in receipt of $20.00 per month for turning on and off an electric switch connected with the water supply of engines that passed through the neighboring village.

As Federal control required all employees be classified, the farmer was forthwith card indexed as an electrician. His pay was commensurately increased to $300.00 a month and, so the varnagoes, he presently received a check for $2,500.00 for wages in arrears."

Such stories set one to wondering why some men will spend so much time and money to be elected to a poorly paid public office, when by merely being card indexed as a mechanic they can earn the salary of a movie star.

In a talk up the state, Hon. I. L. Lenroot, Senator from Wisconsin stated that the "Plumb Plan would never work out." As the Milwaukee Plumb Plan organization is a live one they asked the Senator to meet Mr. Plumb in public to debate the plan. As yet we have not heard from the gentleman, as to when he will meet Mr. Plumb.

Here is a letter Senator Lenroot sent Brother R. G. Knutson, President of the La Crosse Trades and Labor Council, in answer to a resolution asking the Senate to retain the roads and consider the Plumb Plan.

Mr. R. G. Knutson,

La Cross, Wis.

Dear Sir:

I have yours of the 15th inst. with enclosures of resolutions. In reply will say that I have read the same with great interest. I have this to say regarding the Plumb Plan. When it is thoroughly understood I am of the opinion that no labor organization outside the railroad brotherhoods will support it. It will not be supported by farmers, it will not even be supported by the Socialists. If it went through it would increase the cost of living for all, and would be a special privilege exercised by one class to the injury of all of the other people of the country. In principle it is just one step removed from the Bolshevism of Russia. Indeed I am sure that when the railway employees themselves fully understand its injustice and special privileges that are sought to be conferred by it, a very large proportion of the railroad employees themselves are too good Americans and have too large a sense of justice to support it.

Very sincerely,

I. L. Lenroot.

As Senator Lenroot's letter points out the honor of railroad operation under the Plumb Plan, or even continuing under the present Government plan it would be very interesting to study this matter from every angle.

In a speech to the Senate, La Follette explains the railroad situation, for the past few years. To reprint the entire speech would take considerable space, so I am going to try and pick out the best arguments in favor of Government ownership.

"Everyone knows that the railroads of the country, if returned to private hands, are incapable of giving the country decent transportation facilities unless they receive assistance from the government at once of hundreds of millions of dollars and unless their rates and charges are at once increased. Every bill and every plan which has been proposed for returning the roads to private management has in some form provided for immediate financial assistance of the roads by the government and the collection from the public of vastly higher rates and charges than now prevail.

The truth is that the railroad system of this country had broken down prior to the war, and if there had been no war the roads would have been infinitely worse off than they are today unless the government had taken them over to operate them or had financed them."

"Commissioner McCord in a report filed December 28, 1919 said:

In some territories the railroads have furnished but a small part of the cars necessary for the transportation of staple articles of commerce, such as coal, grain, lumber, fruits, and vegetables. In consequence mills have shut down, prices have advanced, perishable articles of great value have been destroyed, and hundreds of carloads of food products have been delayed in reaching their natural markets.

Mr. McAdoo further testified upon this subject:

"In 1918 the railroads in this country were without any reserves of motive power at all. They went into the winter with nothing in the way of motive reserves. They did not have sufficient new locomotives, I mean, they were not delivered, and it was necessary therefore to repair the old locomotives. As soon as the armistice was signed I restored the eight-hour day, and we have kept up with our locomotive repairs and now have nearly 1,100 of them in reserve with which to go into the winter, as against none last year."

"This evidence, Mr. President, taken from sources most friendly to the railroads, shows how completely had been their failure under private management, and explains why the railroad officials are not willing to take the property back unless they are handsomely paid for doing so and are guaranteed the financial support of the Government for the future."

In speaking of the Cummins bill, Senator La Follette said:

"It seems to me important, in considering the provisions of the bill, that we should know something of its origin. We are all aware that the Senate Committee on Interstate Commerce, a majority of whom reported this bill favorably, held a number of hearings in January and February of this year, (1919) at which various representatives of the railways, the security holders of the railways, chamber of commerce, railway employees and other organizations appeared and gave testimony.

The former Director General of the Railroads, Mr. McAdoo, and the present Director General, Mr. Hines, also appeared before the committee, as did several members of the Interstate Commerce Commission.

In addition, various representatives of farmers, of labor, and other organizations appeared before the committee. It would naturally be expected that the views of Mr. McAdoo, who had control of the railroads from the time they were taken over by the Government up to the time of the hearings, or those of his successor, Mr. Hines, would have had great weight with the committee in framing this bill. You will search this bill in vain, however, for anything that remotely resembles the views of Mr. McAdoo, or Mr. Hines expressed to the committee in those hearings. It might be expected that the representatives of the railroad brotherhoods, who appeared before the committee and who showed themselves to be among the ablest and best informed witnesses, would have had some weight with the committee and that their views would find some place in this bill. On the contrary, it will be discovered, upon comparing the bill and the testimony of those men, that nothing they advocated is embodied in the bill and that everything they opposed is found in it."

"So that all you are sure of, if this bill becomes a law, is that you will have made the people of this country guarantee a net operating income to the railroads of 5½ to 6 per cent; that the value upon which the percentage is based will be fixed by the roads themselves; and that there is no limit upon the gross and extravagant expenses which must be paid out of the rates charged before the net income is provided for."

From all this one can but see that the passage of this bill will mean a further increase in taxes, an increase in freight rates which will mean a further increase in the cost of living. To prevent this we must direct our energy to the passage of such legislation that favor government ownership.

Apparently we can no longer trust the old parties, slowly but surely if conditions do not change it will become necessary for labor to take a direct political action, that is to nominate our own candidates and elect them to preserve our liberty.

M. E. Custin, Press Secretary.

L. U. NO. 523, YAKIMA, WASH.

Editor:

Well the job of press secretary has fell on me again for another year, so I will again say a few words from 523. The election of officers for No. 192 resulted as follows: Frank Sullivan, president; Ha King, vice-president; R. P. Kinzie, financial secretary; W. S. Gallant, recording secretary; and press secretary, Geo. Huettner, treasurer.

Work for the inside men is a little slack at present. We are trying our best to line up the P. P. L. Co., a power company in this district and so far are doing fairly well and with Brother McIntyre on the job I believe we will line the balky company up.

The Master Builders Association at its last meeting declared open shop, but so far have failed to try to enforce it. All building crafts are solid for closed shop, but the bricklayers who have declared to work on all jobs scab on union.

There is a movement on foot to start a cooperative store here to combat the H. C. L.

With best wishes to all I remain,

Yours fraternally,

U. S. Gallant,

It looks like I am neglecting the Worker so I will try and slip one by again.

There is nothing at present in this locality worth while. One small toll job that should be classed as a rural line but in order to give it prestige they call it toll. However they have stated that they were for the card man and that sounds good anyway.

The Telephone and Light are not doing anything to speak of only what is absolutely necessary and one Brother was let out from the Light Co. recently because he talked bad to one of the foreman. Called him a scab, and some more not quite so tame.

During war times we seldom saw a strange face and had begun to think that all linemen were in France, but its different now. They are beginning to call on us again and seldom have a meeting without some traveling brother present. Glad to see them and wish they could stop with us. Scarcity of material is holding up some work and they don't expect to get any for two or three months after which the Telephone Company will begin some good jobs.

The last election of officers had seen a complete change as Brother Claud and Tim Blair want a much deserved rest and refused to be nominated again for office.

The following were nominated:

President—Brother J. R. Shaklee.

Financial Secretary—Bro. C. W. Mangam.

Recording Secretary—Bros. H. F. Shaw.

Fraternally,

C. W. Mangam,

L. U. NO. 755, CLARKSBURG, W. VA.

Editor:

As L. U. No. 755 has not been seen in print in the correspondence lately would be glad if you print this short letter of the latest doings around here. There is no new outside work going on around here now. The M. V. T. Co. is fixing to enlarge their new power plant at Rivesville, but the Sanders & Porters have the contract and they are very opposed to union labor, so I don't know what the outcome will be. No. 755 held its regular meeting on the 5th of February, 1920, and installed their new officers for the ensuing year. The new officers were Pres. H. Dotson, Vice-Pres. James Fleming, but still retaining our faithful secretary. This local has got about all of the Clarksburg Light & Heat Co. boys, but they are waiting on the I. O. to get a organizer to help them get their contract through.

Well, boys, hoping you have kept your resolutions, will close for this time.

L. U. NO. 794, CHICAGO, ILL.

Editor:

Local Union 794 has gathered a unsavory reputation amongst the real estate owners of this town, as a great bunch for moving their charter and assets. We have finally landed at our old home, Candler's Hall, second and fourth Thursday. And it is to be understood the only reason we will move again will be on account of fire or other unforeseen reasons.

Working conditions on railroads are as a rule the same old thing day after day and therefore ye scribe has not much to write, except a few extracts from our local papers in regards to the electrification of the I. C. R. R.

The City Council, War Dept. and South Park Commissioners have accepted the ordinance that has been drawn up, but the I. C. has balked on the clause relating to short time notes. They want long time notes, and if the city council will grant these conditions; we can expect to commence the work about the month of July.

Of course, there is not a question about it but what the work will be let out on contract and that will leave us out in the cold on account of the last clause of section 3, article 35 of the Constitution. But still, in all, we have great hopes that the sister locals receiving this work will give us some of the benefits derived from work of this kind, such as the prevailing scale of wages in this city.

Of course, after the work is completed there will be a number of excellent positions open to the electrical workers such as sub-station men, trouble men, etc., and it will be the means of placing our local a little higher in the organized field.

But at the present writing, what interests all of us is, when will the Director General give us another increase in wages. If the common labor washing guts in the stock yards can command 70 cents an hour for his work, I feel assured that an electrical worker who has to learn his trade and still keep on learning it should command at least one dollar per hour.

One of our members employed as a signal man, while working on a semaphore bridge accidentally slipped and fell for a distance of 30 feet, breaking his arm and leg. The latest report received was he would be released from the hospital in about a month just as good as ever.

Hoppe's gang is in Riverdale, Ill., and they attended our last meeting, and I say when they come they do come strong and all prepared for action.

Inasmuch as there will be another month and another issue of the Worker I close with kindest regard for the Brotherhood.

Fraternally yours,

Tom Morgan,
Press Sec'y.

L. U. NO. 802, MOOSE JAW, SASK., CAN.

Editor:

Well here goes for a few lines to let the rest of the Local Union know that 802 is still doing business and expect to do so for some time to come. Not much to say this time but will try and do the best we can.

Election of officers took place on the 29th of December and I hope that we will be able to get a real live press agent for 1920, who will get something for the Worker every month. (It pays to advertise.) Just now things are pretty slow up here. The Government Telephone Department have laid off a lot of the boys. They have all kinds of work started but for some reason are not going on with it.

Things look pretty fair for the coming summer for Saskatchewan.

The following Brothers were elected as officers for the year 1920.

President—Brother Suyers.
Vice President—Brother Ellicott.
Recording and Financial Secretary—Bro. Powel.

Treasurer—Brother P. Smith.
First Inspector—Brother Thompson.
Second Inspector—Brother Ballam.
Foreman—Brother Purdy.

We hope to have a good year and let you hear more from us than you have in the past. I will now say goodbye by wishing all the Local Unions a prosperous year.

I remain,

Yours truly,

P. Smith, Treas.

L. U. NO. 880, PITTSBURG, PA.

Editor:

As I was elected Press Secretary for the present year, I will try and let the Brothers know what and how Local 880 is doing. We held our election on December 31, 1919, and the following officers were elected:

President, T. C. O'Sullivan; Vice President, John Fiegel; Financial Secretary and Treasurer, Jack Keeling; Recording Secretary and Press Secretary, Frank McKenna; Trustees, F. C. O'Sullivan, 1 year; Joe Steiner, 2 years; Charles Green, 3 years; Foreman, Wigle; Inspectors, P. X. O'Brien, and A. F. Marchukonis.

The members of our local voted to close the charter on the last meeting night in February and beginning March 1, 1920 our initiation fee will be $10.00.

The calling off of the steel strike came as a big surprise to our local, but we feel that, although they have staggered us at the present time we will come back and knock the big guy for a goal.

Brother Gordon, Executive board member has been attending our meetings, and the boys like his way of doing business.

I guess that will be all this month and I will come back next month.

Yours fraternally,

Frank McKenna,
Press Secretary.

L. U. NO. 891, COSHOCTON, O.

Editor:

Just a few lines from L. U. No. 891, Coshocton, Ohio, organized in the most beautiful and dry spot in Central Ohio. Organized is right—inside, outside, wiremen and linemen. Beware of (not the bull dog) but the dusty path when you start toward Coshocton for a job of handling any kind of wire and in any way. A card is right and you must have one to be right. Pretty Strong Eh? Well L. U. No. 891 is just as strong as you can see the little red button for squares away coming and going on both sides of the street. Everything has been rolling along nicely. Ask for nothing and get the same. Ask for something and get it as we did and say nothing until you want something. We want to know something? When you land in Coshocton for work have you a card, as there are going to be plenty of work in the near future. So we want nothing from nothing and something from you when you meet L. U. No. 891 for a wireman or linemen job. A card A No. 1 standing.

W. L. Buker,
Financial Secretary.

L. U. NO. 905, RANGER, TEX.

Editor:

The thought has often passed through my mind as to the good the Press Secretary could do his L. U. by boosting his local, that is, if his local is worth boosting. L. U. 905 is one of the kind that is deserving of a big boost. It has made Ranger 100 per cent strong in the electrical line. Inside men have signed agreements with all contractors, $1.25 an hour, eight-hour day. Linemen are working under better conditions than many places.

905 is a mixed local, at present the linemen have appealed for a separate charter, which was granted them. The very best feeling exists between the Lineo's and the Nareo's at this place, but owing to certain existing conditions in this field, it was thought best to have separate locals.

This is strictly an oil town, the oil companies are using all union linemen; there is no great demand for linemen at present, although everyone is working in this district. Expect some big construction jobs to open up soon, oil companies work.

The J. E. Lewis Light Company is operating here and at Eastland the linemen are on strike against said company. November, 1919. Bro. Harve Robinson has been a great help to us in removing some of the scabs. There are three ex-card men scabbing here and two in Eastland. Nichols, whose traveler was out of Muskogee, O. J. Frost and an apprentice named McCleary are cutting the buck here. Ben Palmer, of Brownwood, Tex., and Smith are doing the act in Eastland. Three Fingered Nichols has been wearing a rather sorrowful look on his dirty face lately. Looks almost like he might have done something to be ashamed of, but suppose I must be mistaken in regards to the shame part of it, because a scab's sense of shame is on par with that of a long tailed monkey, from whom he descended. I believe that is enough on a subject that doesn't smell good.

Will give a more complete list of those working on this unfair job in my next letter. L. E. Lewis Light Company is the T. P. & L. Company in "Disgust". Yes, the T. P. & L. were disgusted because they couldn't get competent linemen, so changed their name to J. E. Lewis in the oil fields to try to get their work done. They didn't get away with it though.

Fraternally yours,
Steve McClellan, P. S.

L. U. NO. 910, WATERTOWN, N. Y.

Editor:

We have our new officers all initiated and have put them to work. Some of them are not bad fellows either. We know they cannot dance, because the dancing party they pulled off the other night, was not what most of us would call a success. but aside from that we haven't a single kick coming.

They sure put some pep in their first meeting. Did so much business in a short time, that it put us in mind of Bill Nye's rain storm, where it rained through the bung hole faster than it could run out of both ends of the barrel. It looks, allright, as if we have the correct bunch of officers to put our local on the map.

Hope when you hear from us again they will still be on the job, and things going as nicely as they are now.

We have some others besides officers in 910 but will tell you about them next time.

Lee Reeves, Press Secy.

"Happy?—well I guess!
Why shouldn't I be?
I learned to buy for CASH from Pittsburgh Electric and increased my business and I have money besides. You boys who are buying for cash now,—I'd say stick to it, you're on the right track.

If you are still buying in the old, old way and paying high prices, get away from it NOW, WAKE UP,
make something of your business and yourself for the coming year.

We certainly appreciate and thank you for your orders.
This coming year
with our increased floor
space and other facilities
we can give you better service than ever.

With our heartiest
wishes for a Happy and Prosperous
~ ~ New Year. ~ ~
